These patterns were created because I always have a difficult time finding a table runner that I like in the size that I need. The lace runner is inspired by a shawl that I made for my daughter to wear on her wedding day. It has a more formal feel, and has some sparkle. It works well for special occasions, or every day!

The tile stitch runner was actually inspired by a great set of sheets that I have which have a hem stitch detail that I love.

A set of US size 6 (4mm) 12 inch single pointed needles were used to create the lace table runner. US size 8 (5mm) 12 inch single pointed needles are required for the tile stitch table runner.
